

Special Education Workshops for Parents/Guardians

Navigating through the Special Education process can be confusing and overwhelming. The Chapman Ability Project and the Center for Autism and Neurodevelopmental Disorders created a series of workshops to answer parents' questions and provide easy-to-understand information about Special Education. This four-part series addresses accessing and understanding special education with a focus on collaboratively working with the school to support your children. Workshops are designed for parents and guardians; however, the information is appropriate for all adults interested in learning more about Special Education. Spanish translation will be available.

Special Education Basics: Wednesday, 11/6, 6-8 p.m.

- What is Special Education?
- What are my parent roles, rights, and responsibilities?

Special Education Assessment: Wednesday, 11/13, 6-8 p.m.

- How does the Special Education assessment process work?
- How do I support the assessment process, including completing interviews, questionnaires and rating scales?
- What does my child's assessment report actually mean?

IEP Clinic: Wednesday, 11/20, 6-8 p.m.

- What is an Individualized Education Plan (IEP)?
- How do I actively participate in creating my child's IEP?

Creating Agreement: Wednesday, 12/4, 6-8 p.m.

- How do I work with my school in a collaborative and productive way?
- How do I avoid, reduce, and resolve conflicts?
- What are my options for informal and formal dispute resolution?

Location:

The Center for Autism and Neurodevelopmental Disorders • 2500 Red Hill Avenue, Santa Ana, 92705

Cost:

$80 per family for the four part series • $25 per family for individual series.
Sliding scale rates are available for families with financial need.

For further information or to register and pay by cash or check
please call (714) 628-2842

To register and pay by credit card please visit www.chapman.edu/cap